A Voice for Stanford Campus Co-ed Slow Pitchers and Hard Hitters since 1997

VOL. 5 NO. 2 * VERY LATE EDITION * FRIDAY, JULY 20, 2001 * 0 CENTS

BOXSCORES OF 34 GAMES IN 1ST HALF OF THE 2001 REGULAR SEASON

By an Ancient Scottish Reporter

STANFORD – With the 2001 regular nearing its end, The Sentinel apologizes for its late start in resuming publication. For our new readers, we wish to explain that with just one reporter and two simultaneous games on 61 of the 69 regular season evenings, we cover only 53% of the action.

We are continuing our unique scoring method whereby

1. No fielder ever makes an error
2. No fielder ever makes a choice
3. No batter ever has to sacrifice
4. Any batter who reaches a base safely is presumed to have made a base hit except when walked by the pitcher
5. Whenever the scorekeeper does not know what happened during a play, he will consult with anyone in the area or will enter into the scorebook whatever pops into his head.

Keep in mind the words of the late Willie Stargell (1940 - 2001):

"It's supposed to be fun. The man says, 'Play ball, not Work Ball,' you know?"

This season the Commish reported a shortage of umpires. Several games were umpired by volunteers and week by week or game by game recruits. Barbara Palmer, reporter for The Stanford Report included the Commish's call for umpires in The Stanford Report, May 30, 2001 Cardinal Chronicle / weekly campus column when she wrote:

"THE EMPLOYEE SHORTAGE HAS HIT THE softball league. So many of his regular umpires aren't returning, LEANDER "THE COMMISH" ROBINSON has put out a "desperate" call for umpires. Games are on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, beginning at 5:30 or 6:45 p.m. Umps earn $10 a game -- and the chance to have the last word with fellow employees." If you have news, write to Barbara Palmer at barbara.palmer@stanford.edu or mail code 2245 or call her at 724-6184.

Cha-Ching	3	0	1	2	0	1	x	- 7 10

This game was played in the rain. Everyone and everything got wet. It was the first time that the scorekeeper had to change to a soft lead pencil and keep the scorebook under his jacket between plays. It was also the first time that he had to iron the score sheet dry (medium setting) when he got home. Both teams tried huddling under the home plate oak tree, but the tree leaked dusty water after the second inning. The scorekeeper noticed that everyone was having a fun time and then realized that one of the teams had brought three (yes, 3) kegs of beer (probably left over from their post-commencement parties, or something). When the scorekeeper departed after the end of the game, the players were still under the tree happily consuming the food and beverages. Game-winning run: Cha-Ching – Summer's grounder that scored Zack who had tripled.

With the end of the regular season close at hand and the playoffs approaching, The Sentinel hopes to report more often, hopefully on a weekly basis. We again thank John Huguenard for the web site, and we give special thanks to Tracy Ingebrigtsen of Facilities Operations for putting us on the site. Tracy has played on the Hit & Run team for several years, but is on the reserve list due to approaching motherhood. Thanks, Tracy.
